Freight rates have been reduced over both roads and over the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne, and Cincinnati and St. Louis roads to 30 cents per cwt for fourth class.

An Alternative for the Black Hills Adventurers

CHICAGO March 25—A special from Sioux City says much anxiety is felt there by friends of parties now in the Black Hills over a report brought in by one of Prof Marsh's exploring party that Lame Antelope, with a large body of warriors armed with needle guns has started to attack the mining camp established in the Hills.

Gen. Ord yesterday telegraphed to one of the miners recently returned, to Sioux City, and who asked the General whether he would be permitted to return with reinforcements and provisions, replied as follows Troops from Fort Laramie and hostile Indians have gone for your miners. For their sake I hope the troops may reach them first as their orders are simply to bring in the party and the leaders burn their wagons and destroy the outfit.

THE TILTON-BEECHER TRIAL.

NEW YORK March 25—This morning all the parties to the suit were present except Beecher and Mrs. Tilton. The first witness was

J. B. Woodley (colored),

A former waiter at Woodhull's house. He testified he lived there when the scandal was published and was arrested at the postoffice for mailing some of the papers. His engagement with Woodhull then ceased. Distributed the "Life of Woodhull" to Tilton Testified to seeing Tilton at Woodhull's house often sometimes as late as 12 or 2 o clock sometimes in Mrs. Woodhull's room sometimes in Miss Claflin's Either of the ladies or Col. Blood would be with him He was generally writing. Witness heard a conversation between Tilton and Woodhull, about the scandal. Tilton told her she ought to publish it he couldn't. Said it would crush him Tilton said Plymouth church was rich and would pay to have it stopped Said they would pay a hundred thousand dollars to have it stopped Blood was unwilling to publish it for fear he would get into trouble Tilton and Blood had considerable talk about it, and next day Blood declined to have any thing to do with it. The matter was then in print, and witness saw the proofs. He once saw Tilton and Mrs Woodhull sitting with their arms around each other The conversation about the scandal was about four or five weeks before its publication. Mrs. Woodhull often talked with witness about free love and said Beecher, one of the greatest men that ever lived, was a free lover

Cross-examination which was not concluded at recess, developed nothing noteworthy,

After recess the cross-examination of the negro Worley was continued Witness gave the words of the conversation between Tilton and Woodhull at the time the former brought the proofs of the Beecher scandal He said Tilton said "Vic I have got something for you, and if you print it it will be one of the best things ever you done She said Let's see." And they all Tilton Woodhull Claflin, and Blood sat down on the sofa and began talking They talked about an hour This was on Monday Tilton then said I dare not publish it, for they would crush me but you are a woman and you can do it." Witness repeated the story of Blood's refusal to have anything to do with it and Tilton urging him to publish it, saying Plymouth church would give one thousand dollars to prevent its publication The next day a similar conversation occurred in the same place, that is In Woodhull & Claflin's office. Witness never heard the word of the story about Beecher before that. At the time the witness saw Tilton and Mrs Woodhull sitting on the sofa in Woodhull's office with their arms around each other parties were passing in and out of the office. The sofa was in the middle of the office. Witness had not seen Mrs Woodhull or Miss Claflin since the time they were on trial for sending their paper through the mails

The redirect examination added nothing to the testimony already given The next witness was

R. A. Gray,

A colored resident of Washington City who testified to having come to New York in 1870 by request of Miss Claflin and was employed by Woodhull & Claflin to wrap up and direct papers Knew Tilton had been in his office with a note from Woodhull and brought back copy for her paper Saw Tilton at Woodhull's house about half a dozen times was present at Steinway Hall meeting in 1871 Before the meeting he heard Mrs Woodhull and Tilton talking about getting Beecher to preside Woodhull said he had to or she would make hot ter on earth for him than it was in Hell Tilton said "Oh hell! do it" He has to do it. Witness worked in the front room of the Broad street office They had a back office and he one day saw Tilton and Woodhull sitting in there their arms and heads waving about in a very over like manner They used to be in the room frequently He could hear them talking He used to see Tilton in the second floor back room which was a bedroom Witness sometimes went to bed Tilton was there and when he arose in the morning Tilton was still there

Fullerton waived cross examination of this witness.

WASHINGTON CITY

The Louisiana Judgeship

WASHINGTON March 25—Marshal Packard Mr Pardee and Col Fish of New Orleans visited the President to-day on the subject of his power to appoint Pardee or some other person as district judge of Louisiana but the probability is the office will remain vacant till next session The President has no power to make an appointment till then At the last session Senator Pratt, of Indiana was suggested to the President by the judiciary committee and the President was assured that Pratt would be confirmed but the President adhered to Pardee.

Rumors of Cabinet Changes

WASHINGTON March 25—During Secretary Bristow's absence from Washington, rumors have been circulated that he intends to resign his position and enter upon other pursuits but the most intimate friends of the Secretary deny the truth of the rumors. Ex-Senator Chandler has been mentioned as his successor, but he recently declared that there was no office in the gift of the President that he would accept.

Treasurer Spinner said to any first his visit to the President yesterday had exclusive reference to business for private parties the particulars of which he freely related It is inferred from his conversation that while he is not over anxious to retain his position his retirement from it will not be immediate

Bullion gets a Patent

WASHINGTON March 25—The Secretary of the Interior decides that the Bull on Mining Company of Nevada is entitled to a patent and directs its issue forthwith notwithstanding the writ of error taken to the U S supreme court by the contesting mining company from the decision of the Nevada courts.

The Darien Canal

WASHINGTON March 25—A letter from Commander Lull of the inter oceanic canal surveying party on the Isthmus of Panama has been received at the navy department He says the problem seems to be assuming something like definite shape and the way is gradually beginning to be seen to a very favorable solution of it A cursory examination at the beginning convinced the party that the vicinity of the railroad would offer the best chance for location of a suitable line for an inter oceanic canal

CANADA

The Canadian Cable

OTTAWA March 25—The cable bill as amended by the Senate passed the Commons yesterday.

Seventeen Senators have entered a protest against the third reading of the marine telegraph bill on various grounds but principally that the withdrawal of the exclusive privilege from the Atlantic cable is a question to be settled between the New foundland Government and legislature and the Anglo American company and it is unwise to coerce the people of Newfoundland by a threat of non intercourse into the alternative of pre emption and because such legislation is part of a prohibiting any interchange of messages between existing Canadian companies and a company enjoying a monopoly in Newfoundland while permitting it to be a favored company with all the world also because such legislation is ex post facto maintains no existing rights and is calculated to affect injuriously our credit abroad.

OTTAWA March 25—A petition was presented from Toronto that the duty on tea be reimposed until the United States repeal their discriminating duty

MARRIAGEABLE AGES IN EUROPE

Reports from the British representatives abroad showing the earliest age at which marriages can be legally solemnized in each of the States of the Continent of Europe have been presented to the House of Commons, in pursuance of their address dated June 15 1874 In Austria, the age of discretion, both for males and females is fourteen, and this period of life must be reached on both sides before a marriage can be valid In Hungary, however the marriage laws are entirely ecclesiastical, and males of the Roman Catholic confession cannot contract marriage until they have completed their fourteenth year nor females till they are twelve years of age The Orthodox Greek Church follows the same rule, but Protestants consider males under the age of eighteen and females under the age of fifteen unable to contract valid marriages In Cisleithania, Jews are subject to the civil law, but in Hungary there is no restriction as to the age at which they may marry In Russia, eighteen years for males and sixteen for females are the periods of life at which marriage may be legally contracted In Turkey there is no general law on the subject of marriageable ages The Italian law fixes 18 years for males and 15 years for females, as the earliest time of life at which marriages may be solemnized Prussia by the statute of December 1872 sanctions marriage in the case of males on the completion of their eighteenth year and the fourteenth year in the case of females, no exception being allowed to these provisions The law in France states the earliest age at which marriages can be contracted to be eighteen years in the case of males and fifteen years in the case of females but powers of dispensation are reserved by the code Under the old monarchy boys could marry at the age of fourteen and girls at twelve, as under ancient Roman and even Athenian law The Belgian code is the same as the French in determining the ages of eighteen and fifteen severally as those at which man and woman may marry and in leaving a right of dispensation In Greece males cannot marry before fourteen years of age nor females before twelve while in the Ionian Island sixteen and fourteen years are respectively the legal ages A bill has been or is about to be introduced into the Athenian Chamber appointing fifteen as the earliest ages for males and 12 for females By the law of June 1870, the legal ages of marriage in Spain are 14 for males and 12 for females It is the same in Portugal, with this qualification that minors—that is persons of either sex under 21 years of age—cannot contract marriage without the consent of their parents In Saxony, the legal age for the marriage of males is 18 for females 16 years According to the amended paragraph of the new German civil marriage bill the ages would be respectively 20 and 16 years instead of 18 and 14 as in the draft of the bill In Roumania the legal age for marriage is 18 years in the case of males and 15 in that of females There is much variation of the marriage law in Switzerland as to the ages of contracting parties which in some cantons is as high as 20 years for males and 17 for females and in others as low as 14 for males and 12 for females Consent of parents is also required up to 25 years in Uri in Schaffhouse in Appenzell in Tessin and in Geneva

A DETERMINED BRIDEGROOM—A newly married couple from somewhere down the Lansing road were riding in a Grand River car yesterday and the groom insisted on holding the bride's hand in his big red paw

"Oh no don't!" she said as she jerked her hand away

"Oh lay! let me hold yer hand just for ten minutes," he pleaded

"Shoo Don't you see they are looking at us?" she whispered

"They are eh?" he replied, looking up and down the car "Well now I'm going to put my arm right around ye and if any fellow in this car dares to put crooked I'll git up an' mop the floor with him till I wear him up to his shoulder-blades

His arm encircled her and the other passengers looked as solemn as if they were on their way home from a funeral—Detroit Free Press

A Foul Murder in Southern Oregon—Capture of the Parties—One of them Confesses

JACKSONVILLE March 25—One of the boldest murders ever committed in this county has just come to light About the 20th of February last two men from Douglas county named Wm Carey and Chester Burdon drove away a band of 1 100 sheep belonging to Daniel McMahon, who was herding them on Little Butte creek about 20 miles from here, Carey and Bardon claimed to have bought them but as McMahon was missing foul play was suspected On Sunday last Deputy Sheriff Kent of this county and Sheriff Livingston of Douglas arrested the two men on Elk creek in Douglas county and on Tuesday they were brought here and lodged in jail The evidence altogether circumstantial was very heavy, and it is said that Carey the younger of the two has made a full confession detailing every circumstance of the bloody deed and directing the officers to the spot where McMahon's body was concealed. A party left here this morning accompanied by the coroner to search for the body and hold an inquest on it Full developments are expected to morrow

Somebody writes a spicy letter from Sandy precinct Clackamas county to the Enterprise from which we make this extract "If perchance King Kalakaua of the Sandwich Islands should have come to Oregon while on his visit to the United States and paid old Mount Hood his respects on his way up here he could have been talked to in his own native tongue by the old gentleman Philip Foster of Eagle Creek who is well known by the earlier emigrants of this State for his kindness of heart and generosity It is said that he used to play with the king's father on the Island some thirty odd years ago seven up for the oysters and sometimes little straight-poker but this was before the time our eminent and distinguished minister to the courts of England General Schenck laid down the rules of draw poker to the English people Here you find men who used to study the arts and sciences of war now studying the arts of husbandry who have beat as the old saying is their swords into plow shares and spears into pruning hooks In fact sir there is as well informed and good class of people living here as I ever saw in any community and the longer I live here and get acquainted the better I like it There is a kindred feeling among the settlers here which is rarely found in collected humanity

WHAT'S UP?—Trouble is again in the Republican camp The Sentinel from reasons unknown to the average outsider, goes after Senator Hipple Mitchell's scalp in a manner that would do justice to the OREGONIAN or the Democratic press of the State Not only does it denounce his action in the vacation of the Alsea Indian Reservation as dishonest and corrupt but even goes so far as to thrust his original name (Hipple) at him in the most cruel manner Thus one by one Hipple's friends desert him In the Sentinel he has lost a devoted advocate which has ever been ready to defend him from the attacks of his opponents How are the mighty fallen—Jacksonville Times

THE STATES AND THE CENTENNIAL

[From the Philadelphia Press Feb 18]

The time has arrived when such States as are to be represented in the International Exhibition by collective displays of their resources should be fully organized for the purpose The products must be ready for delivery in Fairmount Park next winter and their collectors will find the intervening time no longer than the task requires In several of the States efficient organizations are diligently at work and as an illustration of one of the best systems hitherto adopted we refer to the work of the Iowa Board of Centennial Managers as set forth very fully by the Industrial Mirror of Des Moines

This board has arranged the several products of the State in thirty two classes To each class has been assigned an expert who is to act as its secretary to see that the products belonging to it are fully collected to arrange them, and finally to supervise their shipment to Philadelphia For instance group 32 includes all patents and useful inventions of the State and Mr Thomas C Orwig the group secretary has published an address through the Iowa press in which he solicits every patentee to become an exhibitor whether of the invention itself or of a working model or of plans and specifications to be bound in volumes Again group 7 contains all wood producing plants with a section of all trees above six inches in diameter, and botany." Prof Bessey of the State Agricultural College has charge of this group and publishes a detailed list of fifty one trees and fifty three shrubs known to be natives of Iowa to which he invites additions of any plants that may have been omitted and he also desires contributions of the samples from all in a position to furnish them Without further illustration, we have quoted sufficiently to show that the natural resources of Iowa will be fully made known at the exhibition

There can be no question that every State will find its account in a similarly comprehensive collection and that those which fail to make it will, if there be such will have long continued cause for regret as they witness the advantages derived by their more enterprising neighbors from this unprecedented opportunity of displaying their claim upon the investing and migrating public There ought to be no failures on the part of the legislatures now in session to provide that this important work shall be done this summer in so thorough a manner that the aggregate exhibition shall constitute a complete presentation of the natural and manufactured products of every part of the land But there are unfortunately some States in which there will be no legislative session in time to take effective action In such cases we must trust to the enlightenment and enterprise of State and private associations—of agricultural industrial, historical learned religious and benevolent societies—most of which have an organization that would enable them to illustrate their respective specialties without much difficulty

Connected with this subject though not perhaps very intimately, is a suggestion which we should like to see urged upon the municipal authorities of our leading cities—of the dozen or more we will say whose population exceeds 100 000 These cities have it in their power to contribute a very striking illustration of their share in the most marvellous growth of the country It should consist of a series of models in plaster or cork or papier mache of each city, at intervals of time Old maps and prints would afford data for the construction of reasonably accurate miniature reproductions of the streets, houses, and wharves of Boston New York Philadelphia, and Baltimore as they stood in 1776 and again at decennial or longer intervals The site of Chicago for example in 1830 would exhibit a few log shanties and a fort in a swamp Successive representations would show her early squalor, with streets sunken in the mud then her raised streets and blocks of houses lifted bodily upwards then her appearance the day before and the day after her great fire lastly the splendors of the rebuilt city Scarcely one of our great cities could fail to present a most interesting epitome of its history, if it were thus tangibly set forth Even where there have been no such wholesale vicissitudes as Chicago would record, or such preternatural growth as San Francisco would demonstrate the changes are greater in short periods than most of us realize Who for instance that had not seen New York in ten years could escape astonishment as he stood on a North river ferryboat and approached the towering masses of masonry that now adorn lower Broadway or rode up Fourth avenue to the Grand Central depot? Then again we should bear in mind the amused comparison with which the model of New York in 1876 will be regarded at the Second Centennial, when the great city will stand upon the New Jersey shore stretching from Hoboken to Communipaw and from the Hudson westward to Newark and Elizabeth

But if these models are to be made the artists have little time to spare.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EXPENDITURES

WASHINGTON, March 3—The final report of the committee on expenditures in the department of justice was presented to-day by the chairman, Mr Sener, of Virginia The report is one of the most elaborate presented to Congress for some time It traces the origin of these committees on expenditures in the departments, and contrasts the remarkable activity and prominence in the proceedings of this committee with the inertness of those in the other departments, which have not reported for thirty years The report briefly reviews the work of the committee which has exposed the great frauds of the Western District of Arkansas compelled the judges to resign to escape impeachment and reduced the expenditures from $121 000 the year before the investigation to $51 000 the year after Besides this practical advantage to the Treasury the committee has proposed legislation which is now law, saving many thousands of dollars annually to the government and preventing the recurrence of like frauds in future The expenditures in five other districts have also been investigated The report reviews the whole subject of the expenditures of the judiciary of the country and in furtherance of the practical aims of the committee recommends the discontinuance of many of the assistant district attorneys and the consolidation of the two districts of North Carolina, the two of Virginia the two of Michigan and the two of Wisconsin and if these recommendations are concurred in there will be a still further saving to the Treasury The labors of this committee which was created in January 1874 on Mr Sener's motion, have been very onerous and almost continuous during this Congress.

THE TUILERIES—A Paris correspondent says There is a new project on foot respecting the poor burned out Tuileries, whose hollow and blackened skeleton still stares blankly over the trees and flowers of the garden It is no other than to tear down the ruins, to abandon the plan of rebuilding the place altogether, and to extend the garden up to the triumphal arch in the Place du Carrousel This plan would certainly have the merit of cheapness to recommend it and if a new King or Emperor would ever again be called to rule over France he would find palace room enough in one of the vast wings which connected the Tuileries with the Louvre one of which used to be given up to the barracks of the Imperial Guard"

A Calcutta dispatch of the 19th to the Times says the Indian government expedition, sent out to survey Western China a member of which was recently murdered has arrived at Rangoon An attack was made by the Chinese frontier officials and in the fight forty Chinese were killed and many wounded. Communication with China on the frontier is stopped by bands of armed men

A DESTRUCTIVE FLOOD

THE CITY OF KNOXVILLE INUNDATED—IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY AND SUFFERING AMONG THE POOR

KNOXVILLE, (Tenn), March 2—On the 25th of February the water in the Holston river at this point had reached its highest since 1867 and was within two feet of the flood of that year Since then it began to fall rapidly but to-day alone it rose five feet and the residence of Mr Barry, the oldest typographical employer in the State, was entirely submerged In the afternoon of the 28th ult the water commenced falling On Sunday it was within the banks of the river, until the second rise, which this time came to day The loss of property in Knoxville is very heavy, falling chiefly on individuals and amounting to about $40 000 The gas works are badly damaged and the city has been in total darkness since Thursday last From every part of East Tennessee comes news of

DISASTER AND DAMAGE,

But the means of communication are so limited that the worst is not known Houses—perhaps with their inmates—bridges barns fences, corn cribs grist and saw mills have all been swept away by the raging waters The loss is estimated here to be frightful and it falls chiefly on the farming community, who are less able to bear it than any other In Cocke county alone the loss is estimated to be over $200,000 So far but few lives are reported to have been lost Rain has been constantly falling since yesterday morning, and the river here has risen over twelve feet during the past twenty four hours and is still rising Great fears of further damage are entertained There are not less than twenty five breaks on the East Tennessee Virginia and Georgia Railroad between this point and Chattanooga The news from that city to day is both limited and disheartening No Western mail has been received here since the day the 23d ult, and only one Eastern mail for a week Chattanooga is

NOW COMPLETELY ISOLATED

And cut off from the outer world The only telegraph wire between that city and Knoxville was swept away to day at noon with the trestle work over Chickamauga Creek which succumbed to the devastating waters at that hour The latest from Chattanooga is contained in a special to the Daily Chronicle to day which states that the water reached its highest point this morning the total rise being fifty two and a half feet The water was then two feet deep in the Postoffice and four feet deep on the market square A strong current was running through the Read House and in some places it had reached the lower wires on the Western Union Telegraph poles The city authorities were issuing rations the Masons, Odd Fellows Knights of Pythias and citizens of means were relieving the poor and needy, and a great deal of suffering prevailed

THE BARK "GIOVANNI"

STORY OF THE WRECK BY THE ONLY SURVIVOR—THE ENCOUNTER OF PICKET HILL—INCIDENTS DURING THE FURY OF THE NORTHEAST GALE.

BOSTON March 9.—The only survivor of the ill fated Italian bark Giovanni arrived in this city this forenoon He is an Italian and the story, which he tells only in his native tongue, is as follows

THE STORY OF THE WRECK

The first we hear of the Giovanni after her sailing is that she is spoken February 23d in latitude 36 55, longitude 51, by the bark Zephyrine, bound to Boston, with a $60,000 cargo for Messrs Tully & Co Next in the storm of Thursday March 4th she is reported as probably the bark on the lower Picket Hill Bar, stranded with the seas making clean sweeps over her and beyond aid of human hands On the following morning the telegraph from Highland Light brings the news that she is wrecked and going to pieces on the bar, and only one of her crew, the steward saved. The only survivor, although he has three times before visited this country, could speak but little English

THE SURVIVOR'S STORY

His narrative is simple Their run was seventy odd days from Palermo when they were last spoken, and the usual northern gales of the season had buffeted them about, but not seriously crippled them On the eighty-first day they encountered a terrible north-easter which drove them well down the coast below, in latitude 42 degrees, and took in shreds from their spars the canvas upon which all depended The snow was blinding and the sea running mountains high, when, at last near the morning of Thursday, they sounded and found forty fathoms of water Highland Light they had been endeavoring to see all night and failing to find it, their reckoning was somewhat confused The struggle then was to work off shore but the icy blasts, while they rendered the men almost helpless, were at the same time tearing their sails from the bolt ropes and sweeping her every moment more helpless toward the bar of the treacherous shore Finally it became apparent to all that she would soon bring up where no wind even as strong as this, could sweep or lift her The lead was kept constantly sounding, and the crew each time, with horror more acute, listened to the gradually lessening figures that were called from the bow and reported to the quarter deck. To think of doing anything with the anchors, was like hoping against hope, and slowly on she came, fighting hard to keep off the lee shore

RUNNING ON PICKET HILL.

About noon she encountered the outer Picket Hill bar bounding over it with heavy strains and shaking her top hamper like reeds and skeins of thread, crash came down the maintopmast taking along pieces of sails and entangling running and standing rigging in a hopeless confusion She was in every sense now crippled, and the only chance was that she would beat over and be cast upon the beach, where those on board could save their lives For this there was, however no chance. The inner bar was reached, struck, and her keel held fast to it, after lifting and careening two or three times

PEOPLE ON THE BEACH.

They could see people on the beach, for it was two o clock in the afternoon, but no communication between them could be had. As soon as she stranded she began settling, and the sea made a clean breach over her The crew became demoralized, and in the confusion the fifteen men on board rushed hither and thither, a sea occasionally picking one off. The carpenter and steward, hardly knowing what they were about, but realizing that the bonds of the wreckers failed in their mission to take a line out to them, and knowing that no boat could live a second, seized a plank and leaped into the water. The rest, believing that their only salvation would be through sticking to the vessel, finally took to the rigging and saw their shipmates tossed about in the seething sea. When part way in the carpenter, benumbed with cold, was washed off the plank, and sunk in a moment's time out of sight.

THE ONE MAN LEFT

Minutes to the one man who was left seemed like hours Now a sea lifted him masthead high and then threw him into the trough of it He would swim, shut out from all, going forward, and then receding, but all the time making slow progress to the breakers on the shore He was kept in constant alarm, there was no question but that the plank would drift in but the vital one was whether he would be able to stick to it till it should finally be dashed by the foaming water that so madly lashed the beach He was descried finally by those who were on the beach, and cheers of encouragement, blended with the angry voice of the elements hopes and fears, followed each other in quick succession till his faculties seemed failing him Then when the tale of his sufferings and those of his shipmates seemed about to be sealed in the unwritten book of the mighty deep a huge roller placed him within reach of a man who dashed into the skirts of the surf and pulled him almost inanimate upon the beach Captain Worthen and his men, with all the tenderness and skill which their experience suggested, resuscitated him, and when the morning broke he could go in and out among them All night the wreckers kept their vigils on the shore, hoping that each succeeding norther would bring with it a sign of bating winds with quieter seas but the northeaster kept piping as furiously as ever, and seemed, as it howled through the bark's hamper, like a wild beast gratifying its fiendish propensities till it should decide to terminate the agony of its victim

THE BREAK OF DAY

Friday morning broke but with no chance of succoring those remaining in the vessel Six persons could be seen clinging to the foretopmast rigging, and the vessel was fast breaking up. The other eight persons had rendered their final account and gone down into the sea Nothing could be done for those who were left and with a sense of terror that riveted all who beheld it to the spot whereon they stood, they saw the foretopmast reel and snap like an overstrained cord, and, with the other remaining spars, crash down upon what little was left of the hull of the Giovanni

BODIES WASHED ASHORE

The bodies of the captain and three of the crew, including that of the carpenter, have been washed ashore and this morning were laid out in the village church of Provincetown, three miles overland from the scene of the wreck Directions had been received to bring the remains of the captain to this city and it is probable that it will be done while the others with their shipmates as they are recovered will be laid in the small graveyard where rest others equally unknown to those who maintain this final resting place

MASTER AND MAN—This is the way an impecunious Parisian dandy managed He kept at his residence a costume of a groom When offering an attention to the fair sex he used to say "Permit me to send you a bouquet by my black servant" He then repaired to his garret, took his blacking bottle polished his face and hands, put on his livery and knocked at the lady's door "Here" said he "are some flowers from master to madame" He had spent his last franc in the purchase Madame was so delighted with the present that she presented the bearer with a louis This is a clever pocketing of three dollars, and a lady's favor into the bargain

LANCASTER Pa, March 17—Dr Thos H Goodwin of York county, has been committed to jail here charged with the seduction of Miss Mary Reichelberger, a young lady of good family in this city, and afterward attempting to produce abortion, which resulted in her death She was found a week ago by her relatives, concealed in a hut in Maryland The details of the affair are horrible

THE TERRITORIES

Bismarck was incorporated by act of the legislature last month and is now run by one Mayor, Hackett and six aldermen

It is expected that more freight will pass through Corinne northward the coming summer than at any previous season since the place became a city

Charles Murray, a native of Boston, but who has been on this coast for thirty years, was recently found dead near Helena, Montana It is supposed he died of heart disease

An expedition will leave Bismarck early in the summer for the Yellowstone country with a view of carrying out Sheridan's recommendations for the establishment of military posts in that region, and will probably visit the Black Hills

A Placerville (Idaho) letter of the 14th inst., says, "We have just had the severest snow storm of the season, and the hopes of the boys for a good season, after all, are largely increased They had been praying for a good storm for a long time, and one fellow went so far as to wish 400 feet of snow, to be followed by 'bilin' hot rain'"

Another miner has arrived at Sioux City direct from Black Hills He reports that gold was found at every point in the hills visited by their party, and at last quartz, which is estimated to yield one thousand dollars per ton Great excitement exists at Spotted Tail agency, and the Indians are preparing to dislodge the invaders in the spring.

It still snows up in Idaho The Silver City Avalanche of the 17th says A mud house used for sheltering a half dozen Chinamen, situated near the foot of the gulch, Florida mountain, and not far from the residence of H B Maize, was obscured from sight last night by the storm The Celestials managed to get out safe and sound and were busy this morning removing the snow from the premises

LATEST NEWS ITEMS

The German government has ordered the frigate Ariadne to Swatow, to support the demand for indemnity from China for plundering the bark Furst Bismarck.

The reports of damage to the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company by ice were much exaggerated There was no damage which caused delay to trains except on the river line, between Colt... and Middletown.

Wm. Cunningham, a resident of Newark, N. J., was arrested, March 19th, charged with conspiring to assassinate his wife He was surrendered by the party whom he had hired to kill his wife, agreeing to pay him a thousand dollars for it.

In the South Carolina Legislature, on the 19th inst, ... of the House of Representatives, ... the Governor's veto of the bill to liquidate the floating debt of the State is void not having been issued within the specified time. The matter was finally referred to the judiciary committee, who report they are unable to agree upon the status of the bill.

A Columbus, Ohio, dispatch of the 19th, says "Trouble among the white and colored miners at Straitsville has broken out again. It began in an attack on and maltreatment of colored miners by whites, and resulted in the superintendent and foreman of the mines and the colored miners being driven away McClurg, the superintendent, was shot and badly wounded by a miner with whom he got into an altercation Daniel Harbaugh, an employe of the company, who arrived here from Straitsville this morning, reports that the company's store was burned last night, with its contents, by the miners. Governor Allen has sent the adjutant-general to Straitsville, where he will meet the sheriff of Perry county this evening All the colored miners have left Straitsville except two, who are too badly wounded."

A STRANGE DREAM FULFILLED—A curious fulfillment of a dream occurred at the battle of Prairie Grove, Ark. under my own eyes A man by the name of Joe Williams had told a dream to many of his fellow-soldiers, some of whom had related it to me, months previous to the occurrence which I now relate He dreamed that we crossed a river, marched over a mountain, and camped near a church located in a wood, near which a terrible battle ensued, and in a charge, just as we crossed the ravine, he was shot in the breast On the memorable 7th of December, 1862, as we moved at double-quick to take our place in the line of battle, then already hotly engaged, we passed Prairie Grove church, a small frame building belonging to the Cumberland Presbyterians I was riding on the flank of the command, and opposite to Williams, as we came in view of the house. "This is the church, Colonel, I saw in my dream" said he. I made no reply, and never thought of the matter again until in the evening We had broken the enemy's ... and were in full pursuit, when we came up to a dry ravine in the wood, and Williams said "Just on the other side of the hollow I was shot in my dream, and I will stick my hat under my shirt" Suiting the action to the word, as he ran along he doubled it up and crammed it in his bosom. Scarcely had he adjusted it before a minie ball knocked him out of the line. Jumping up quickly he pulled out his hat, waved it over his head, and shouted. "I'm all right!" The ball raised a black spot about the size of a man's hand just over his heart, and dropped into his shoe—Rev. L W Lewis, in Texas Christian Advocate

IN MEMORIAM.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 26, 1875.

ALL ABOUT THAT GRINDING MONOPOLY—THE TELEGRAPH COMPANY EXPOSES THE BULLETIN'S LIES.

It is no less unpleasant to us to have to expose from day to day the falsehoods and other disreputable practices of the Portland Bulletin, than it doubtless is to our readers to see so much of the subject. But certainly no one can say the exposures we have lately made of its thefts and forgeries of dispatches, with conclusive proof of every specification, were not called for by the facts in the case. And we feel equally certain no one who reads this article, will say we could pass over without notice the matters we are about to mention.

For some time past the readers of the Bulletin have been harangued almost every morning about the OREGONIAN'S securing a monopoly of the telegraphic dispatches, and that paper has frequently, during the same period, had editorial articles abusing the Western Union Telegraph Company in the most violent manner, for its alleged part in the OREGONIAN'S monopoly. The substance of its repeated attacks on both the OREGONIAN and the telegraph company, is contained in the following excerpt from the leading editorial in the Bulletin of yesterday:

And what is that monopoly? Let us state it particularly, so the people can see just how dishonest and insincere the OREGONIAN has been in its professions of reform and anti-monopoly. By its contract, and the payment of Corbett's money, and by the false representations it made about the Bulletin, the OREGONIAN secured a monopoly of the news of the Associated Press to be sent through the telegraph for one thousand dollars per month, being two hundred dollars per month more than both papers had before paid. As soon as the Bulletin learned of the fraud that had been practiced upon it, application was made to the telegraph company for a duplicate copy of the news as we had always got before, and we were told by the superintendent of the telegraph company that the Bulletin could not have that if it would pay "ten thousand dollars a month." Here was the direct refusal of a common carrier, whose business had been built up by the Bulletin just as much as the OREGONIAN, to render the Bulletin the same service at any price. How is that for a monopoly? On learning this decision we inquired if they would send other news to the Bulletin. "Oh, yes, we will send other news, and be glad to accommodate you." Then we told the telegraph company to send us the news of the American Press Association, the only other news association in the business. And then we were informed we must pay a higher rate for the service than the OREGONIAN; we must pay over twenty-three hundred dollars per month for the services which costs the OREGONIAN only a thousand dollars a month. And when the Bulletin protested against such unfair and unjust discrimination, and asked for the reason, we were told that it was agreed with the OREGONIAN that the Bulletin should not have the same rates. Now, then, how is that for a monopoly? There, farmers of Oregon, is the great reform OREGONIAN. There, Grangers of Oregon, is the great anti-monopoly OREGONIAN.

As our readers know we have several times stated that the whole story of the telegraph company's refusing to transmit dispatches to the Bulletin on the same terms as to the OREGONIAN, is an unmitigated falsehood. Knowing the contract between the OREGONIAN and the telegraph company gave the OREGONIAN no rights which the Bulletin or any other paper might not receive on the same terms, we felt assured the company had never refused to transmit news to the Bulletin on the same terms we have with the company. And now, we have proof not only that the company had not refused as the Bulletin asserts, but that the company has offered the Bulletin the same facilities we enjoy. In reply to a note from the business manager of this paper, last evening, Mr. F. H. Lamb, Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company for this district, says:

"I authorize you to state that the Bulletin Publishing Company was offered by this company the same facilities for transmission over our wires of news reports of the same number of words and at the same rates, for which we perform the same service for the OREGONIAN."

That nails the lie, so far as the charges against the telegraph company are concerned. It substantiates what we have frequently stated, that the Bulletin can get dispatches transmitted over the wires just as cheaply as we can. It is apparent that the ring organ is unable or unwilling to pay for the transmission of an equal dispatch at the same rates, and is lying about the telegraph company and the OREGONIAN for the purpose of working upon the sympathies of its subscribers, and thus keeping them from dropping it and taking a paper that will furnish them the news. Thus far the note of Mr. Lamb fastens the lie on the Bulletin; and the presumption is, according to the rules of legal evidence as well as common sense, that the person who is false on one point is false on the whole.

We have heretofore given the exact facts with relation to this alleged "monopoly;" but it may not be amiss to repeat them in brief. Formerly the OREGONIAN and Bulletin had a joint contract with the telegraph company for the transmission of some of the principal items of the Associated Press dispatches, after their publication in the San Francisco papers, paying therefor $800 per month. That contract expired December 31, 1874. The management of the Bulletin talked of reduction of the telegraphing, but the OREGONIAN wanted to increase the dispatches. The dispatches were short and incomplete, and it was the desire of the management of this paper to give its subscribers more telegraphic news. It was also their desire to give the news as early as it could be furnished by any paper on the coast. To these ends, it was determined not to renew the old contract, but to leave each paper to make its own arrangements. The OREGONIAN would take care of itself and the Bulletin might do likewise. Accordingly the editor of this paper went to San Francisco to make arrangements for the immediate transmission of the Press dispatches, with authority to proceed to New York and see Mr. Simonton, of the Association, if necessary. It was found practicable to make the arrangement without going to New York. It was simply a business transaction. We purchased the right and paid for it.

We give our readers now, for the same price they formerly paid for a meagre summary, full dispatches, with twenty-four hours' advantage in the matter of time.

We purchased the Associated Press dispatches and furnish them to the telegraph company for transmission. The Bulletin says they are inferior to those of the other news company, called the American Press Association. The dispatches of the latter the Bulletin says it can get, and would do so but for the refusal of the telegraph company to transmit them. That statement of the ring organ's is now shown by Mr. Lamb's note to be a falsehood so far as the difficulty of getting them transmitted is concerned. The telegraph company offer equal facilities to both papers. There is no monopoly then. The OREGONIAN, it is true, is the only paper that receives the dispatches, but the Bulletin could get them if it would. The OREGONIAN'S telegraphic news costs now about $13,000 or $14,000 per year. Is that sum so large as to create a monopoly? Any first-class paper can pay it. When a paper of the pretensions of the Portland Bulletin whines about monopoly on the ground that it would cost $13,000 to $14,000 a year, to maintain competition, no one can wonder at hearing rumors from time to time of its being involved in financial troubles. The Railway monopoly of which the Bulletin has been the organ, cost millions, not merely a few thousands. The steamship monopoly, of which the Bulletin is the organ, cost millions, not merely a few thousands. If the ring organ's business does not justify its paying for the dispatches, that is no reason why the OREGONIAN should not furnish the news. Let the Bulletin do as other papers do which can not afford to take the dispatches—do without them. We do not hear the Record, the Statesman, or any of the other better papers than the Bulletin, which do not take the dispatches, bemoaning their fate or abusing the telegraph company because it does not choose to give them the dispatches for nothing. Why is the Portland Bulletin, organ of all the monopolies in Oregon, entitled to privileges which those other papers do not claim? And on what principle is the OREGONIAN to be required to continue its partnership with the ring in taking its dispatches, after the partnership contract has expired by the limitation of its terms? If the Bulletin will permit us, we will venture to suggest that the decent course for it to take, is, to purchase and pay for its dispatches as others have to do, and pay for their transmission as others have to do; or else to accept the situation as others do under similar circumstances; and in any event to stop lying about its neighbors.

The Bulletin of yesterday had just a column of our telegraphic news of the day before, and it did not change the date. That is encouraging. And it was not headed "special telegrams to the Bulletin," which is likewise encouraging. It failed to credit the OREGONIAN, but that will come round by and by, if the improvement in the ring organ's manners continue.

If it wasn't for Hill's bald head, Corbett, Hill and Pittock might pass for Chinese deities.—Bulletin.

Somehow that bald head gives the Hipple-ites an immense deal of trouble.

SEVERE WINTERS.

[Pittsburgh Commercial.]

It is the part of human nature to regard the present as essentially different from the past. If the winter is open, we are told in a lamenting tone that there are no more old-fashioned winters, and that the seasons are perceptibly changing; while, if we happen to have a really old-fashioned winter, as we are now having, the car is assailed with fretful complaints about its exceptionally severe character. Everybody, now, is sure that there never has been as hard and severe a winter as the present.

Yet those who can recall the past know that this is not so. The meteorological tables kept at the Pennsylvania Hospital, in Philadelphia, for a century past, with great accuracy and fidelity, prove that, while seasons may vary considerably in details, in the aggregate they are vastly alike. A given day in February, 1875, may not correspond with the same day in February, 1870, and months may even vary as compared with each other in different years, but the average of each winter, spring, summer or autumn, in any one year compared with another, is remarkably alike. It is impossible that any two winters should be exactly alike, but the variation is not sufficient to make any winter really exceptional.

The winters of 1831 and 1832, in this region, set in as early as November, and continued with but little variation until the middle of February. The rivers were, we are informed, frozen over in November, 1830, and remained so until the spring thaw set in. They were also frozen over in November or December, 1831, and remained frozen up until the middle of February, 1832. In both of these winters the ice on our rivers formed a natural bridge, and teams crossed on the ice regularly and steadily. Nearly all the coal for this city was then hauled in teams over the ice. The great "Pumpkin flood," of 1832, was caused by the rapid melting of the snow and ice that had accumulated during the long and severe winter, which were so great in quantity as to make that the highest flood of which we have any record.

The winter of 1835 was also a very severe one, and if we have fewer accounts of the low state of the thermometer in such winters, it was because thermometers were then very rare, and scarcely any note was made of the actual degree of cold then prevailing. We have no doubt, if the record had been kept, the winters of 1831, 1832 and 1835 would be found to be as cold as the winter of 1875.

To say nothing of intervening years, the winter of 1856 was one within the memory of a great many now living. A deep snow fell on Christmas day, 1855, which was followed by severe and steady cold, and it remained cold, without change, until the following March. The rivers froze over solid, and were again used as a bridge. The Republican National Convention, which organized the Republican party, met here, in Lafayette Hall, on the 22d day of February, 1856, and the rivers were, on that day, a solid mass of ice, over which many of the delegates to that convention passed on foot as securely as if on land; and it was some time after that when the rivers broke up.

It may well be that the thermometer did not, during all that winter, go down to 25° below zero, as it did here on the 15th inst., but the average degree of cold was undoubtedly equal to that which has prevailed here this season.

The cold waves which have twice swept over the entire West, this winter, are not usual to this latitude, and in that respect the season is partly exceptional; but they are not the first that have been experienced. It is only within a few years that science has made known the existence of cold waves, starting in the far West and sweeping over the entire country; but cold spells in which the thermometer fell from 15 to 30 degrees below zero have occurred frequently. The minds of average observers do not charge themselves with the recollection of such things, and hence they are mainly forgotten, and people are led, without any point of comparison before them, to conclude that there was never so hard a winter as this; yet it will be found, upon examination, there not only have been such winters, before, but plenty of them.

CITY.

PASSED AWAY.—Again we are called upon to note the death of one of our old and well known citizens Mr Wm J Burke Mr Burke has been a resident of Portland for many years during which time he has been identified with the interests of the city in various ways He has taken a great interest also, in the welfare of his brethren from his native country Ireland and watched the movements of the societies formed among that class of our citizens though at the time of his death not a member of any one He was appointed several years ago by the Governor one of the police commissioners, and upon his retirement from his official position some months since he went to California for the benefit of his health The change, however did not help his case and he returned to Portland, where he had made his home, only to gradually waste away—the disease consumption having taken too firm hold to enable him to again resume his daily avocations. After weeks of confinement he passed away yesterday, about one o'clock surrounded by his family and immediate friends Deceased was aged about 55 years He leaves a wife and step-son Capt Jos R Wiley The funeral will take place on Monday and will no doubt be largely attended,—a number of Irish societies having resolved to follow the remains of their dead friend to the grave

SUIT COMMENCED.—From the Statesman of yesterday we learn that Bernard Goldsmith, the President of the Canal and Locks Co filed on Wednesday in the Circuit Court of Marion county a complaint against A H Brown, State Treasurer The complaint sets forth that the State of Oregon owes to said company the sum of $200 000, which is payable out of a certain fund set apart for that purpose. Of that fund there is now in the hands of the Treasurer about $43 000, which he refuses to apply, or any portion thereof, to the payment of the Canal and Locks bonds, unless the plaintiff will suffer them to be redeemed at 95 per cent. of their par or face value. As A H Brown, the State Treasurer, has advertised for sealed proposals from the holders of the Canal and Locks bonds for the loan of the funds set aside as before stated, and also as stated in said proposals that the bonds will in no event be paid at any greater rate than 95 per cent. of their par value, this suit is brought to enjoin and restrain the Treasurer from loaning said fund as per his proposals No appointment has yet been made for the hearing of the case

RETURN OF FATHER WILBUR.—In speaking of the return of Rev J H Wilbur from his trip East the Advocate says Father Wilbur returned from his trip to Washington on Saturday last, looking in better health than ever. He reached Washington on the very day appointed for his interview with the commissioner of Indian affairs and others for the purpose of council concerning the interests of the Indians After this meeting was over Bro Wilbur spent some time in New York and other places lecturing and addressing the people on various subjects connected with the interests of Oregon He thinks for many reasons the people of this coast ought to be satisfied with their homes and their country. Father Wilbur left for Fort Simcoe on Wednesday morning

HAIL STORM.—Purser O'Neil informs us that a terrific storm passed over Astoria yesterday morning about 5 o clock First the wind blew like a half grown tornado making the vessels pitch and toss about like perturbed spirits seeking rest, and the river to look like a chopped sea. After the gale a terrific hail storm followed, which lasted for some time covering the wharves, houses and landscape to the depth of an inch or more A little after daylight the wind abated its fury and the hail ceased to descend, and everybody drew a breath of relief Strange to say no damage was done to the shipping.

EXPLANATION.—In our published report of the proceedings had in the State Circuit Court on Wednesday, in the case of Wetmore vs. Wetmore and Lownsdale, the paragraph was made to read in such a manner as to appear rather ambiguous, and liable to misconstruction The true state of the case is that Mrs Wetmore sued for a divorce, and in the same suit sought to recover some land the title to which should come through Lownsdale, and he was for that reason made a party to the suit. She was granted the divorce but denied the land and the suit was dismissed as to Lownsdale.

A WINDY TIME.—During most of the day on Wednesday the wind blew fiercely at Astoria The Euterpe, which is lying at that point, began to swing about and drag her anchor Fearing an accident one of the tugs went out and hitched on to the vessel for the purpose of holding her, but the wind blew so strong that even the tug could do but little towards preventing the vessel from dragging her anchor Finally the vessel was brought along side the wharf and made secure

DROWNED.—We learn from a San Francisco paper that Peter Anderson a seaman on board the schooner James Townsend, from Coos Bay was drowned on the 18th inst in latitude 39 deg 29 min north longitude 125 deg 20 min west. He was in the act of jibbing the foresail and fell overboard It was blowing a fresh gale from the northwest, with a heavy sea running, and he sank before assistance could be rendered him Anderson was aged 21 years and a native of Prussia

PRESENTATION.—The regular meeting of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence Society, on Thursday evening last was rendered unusual ly interesting from the fact that the members presented Rev A J Glorieux, their worthy president, with a gold badge as a small testimonial of their respect. The badge is very neat being appropriately engraven with the emblems of Temperance and inscribed with the worthy president's name.

RESIGNATION.—Capt Jos R. Wiley who for several years past, had command of the Emmet Guard recently tendered his resignation as captain of that company First Lieutenant Sloran has been elected to fill the position rendered vacant by the resignation of Capt Wiley This gentleman has proved to be a very competent officer and the members of the company sincerely regret his resignation

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—A very fair house was present last evening at New Market theater on the occasion of the second presentation of the drama of Rip Van Winkle This public are familiar with the play but the careful and painstaking manner in which it was produced last evening invested it with unusual interest The principal feature of the play was the thoroughly finished and artistic style in which Mr Herne rendered the leading role Justice requires us to say that throughout his acting was characterized by that dramatic elegance grace and ease which bespeaks the true artist He does not suffer the interest to droop for a moment while in some of her more pathetic scenes the genuine feeling with which he invests the part touches the hearts of the most apathetic As Gertrude the wife, Miss Blanche Galton succeeded very well and left a very favorable impression on the mind of the audience It would be unjust to the lady to judge of her talents simply from her appearance in one character In the future she will have abundant opportunities to strengthen and confirm the good impression made Miss Ada Deaves rendered the character of Lorena (after the second act) in a pleasing manner She dressed the part in good taste and her fresh girlish face and easy manner won for her the sympathy of the audience Miss Rillie Deaves as the Lorena (in the first act) won golden opinions by her artless simplicity as the truly affectionate daughter and coy little maiden lover At the close of the performance Miss Rillie favored the audience with her famous Silver Clog which was received with the warmest demonstrations of favor We predict for Rillie the favoritism of the theater going public Little need be said of the more subordinate characters of the play Without an exception the support rendered by Mrs I Tulford Messrs, LeRoy Tulford, Cleaves Whiffen and Osburn was efficient The play was beautifully mounted the music furnished by the full orchestra splendid the stage worked like a charm while the scenery and the brilliantly lighted auditorium combined to produce an effect dazzling to the eye and almost bewildering to the senses Thus far the new season can be set down as a success This evening 'Rip Van Winkle' will be repeated for the last time To morrow afternoon a matinee performance will be given On Saturday evening two pieces will be produced— Dombey and Son and The Irish Doctor At matinee admission to all parts of the house 50 cents children under 12 years of age half price On other occasions the price of admission will be dress circle and orchestra $1 reserved seats 25 cents extra gallery 50 cents children half price Lighthouse Cliffs is underlined for Monday evening

HONOR WITH THIEVES.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette relates a marvellous story of how a well known charitable lady of New York city recently had her pocket picked of $700 which she was carrying home from a fair for the benefit of the poor The fact of the robbery is not in itself so very remarkable but the romance of the story comes in in the recital of how a day or two after the theft, a rough looking man rang the door bell of the lady's house and being admitted, returned the $700 adding The Fraternity, madam desired me to say that you are known and admired by them and that the annoyance you have suffered in the loss of this money was owing to a mistake The person who took it did not recognize you Further that you never need be worried should you lose money in this city again, if you do lose any it will be by accident, and certainly be restored to you as this has been Appreciating your good deeds, the Fraternity take the liberty of adding $100 to the amount returned and now I will bid you good day " This smacks of the genuine footpad of romance, and makes the reader think that Sherwood Forest has been transported to New York, and that a modern Robin Hood is cutting throats and dispensing charity, as did his prototype of former years

THE NEW POSTAL CARD.—The new postal cards will be unlike those now in use The color will be violet blue The border and all directions as to where and how to write name and address will be dispensed with A monogram formed of the letters U S will be printed on the card in black ink This will be on the upper left-hand corner, across which will be the words "Postal Card" The vignette—Liberty, with her luxuriant tresses hanging down her back and confined by a cap—adorns the upper left hand corner The new cards will be identical in size with the old ones They will cost $1 39 to manufacture and will be ready for delivery about the middle of April

A ROMANTIC SHIPWRECK STORY

THE EXPERIENCE OF A CREW ON THE SOUND—HEROISM OF A LIGHT KEEPER AND HIS DAUGHTER.

(From the Springfield (Mass) Republican

The story of the Newark (Conn) propeller E A Woodward during the recent ice blockade in Long Island Sound is one of the most interesting chapters of the terrible experience of the cameras on the New England coast The vessel started from Providence for New York Feb 3 but was soon driven into New port harbor by a violent gale Next day she started again but was forced to seek shelter in New London harbor Having coaled up the propeller put out into the sound on Sunday the 7th but was met by immense ice floes, coming along with resistless force The vessel was approaching Faulkner's Island a little more than six miles from Guilford Sunday night when Capt Bartlett spied what he took to be a buoy and he steered directly for it. When it was too late the object was found to be the sharp point of a ledge and the vessel struck upon it with a tremendous shock. This rock pierced the hulk and holding it fast. It was high tide and so when the water ebbed a mass of ice was thrown upon the ship The crew abandoned their vessel and made their way through the darkness to the lighthouse

For five days efforts were made to save something from the propeller, the crew going on board several times with difficulty They had boarded her on Friday the 12th when, during the afternoon a terrific gale sprung up the ice piled up ten feet high to the windward threatened to fall and crush them and they were without food Captain Brooks rushed to the rescue from the lighthouse accompanied by his two daughters Mary and Nannie 18 and 20 years old who aided their father in drug ging his heavy life boat from the opposite side of the island and over to the shore near the wreck. Although the mercury was at zero with a biting northwest wind that the hardy seamen were scarcely able to withstand the two young ladies bravely helped to bear the boat over the icebergs to the open water, where it could be launched A rope was thrown to the ship and made fast to the deck and also secured on shore and by its aid the boat was rowed over the stormy waves to the vessel's side The sailors were all taken off and the life boat returned in the same manner All were completely exhausted when they arrived on the island But for the noble efforts of Captain Brook s family, the crew must have perished that day ended with a terrible snow storm. The vessel was soon carried out to sea and lost. The captain and crew imprisoned on the island communicated with the mainland by means of signal telegraph but no aid could be sent because the sea was so rough On Wednesday the 17th they got desperate and setting out in a life boat reached shore after a rough experience with the ice cakes They had been separated from the world eleven days The crew speak with the greatest enthusiasm of the lighthouse people who so imperiled their lives to save them

Capt Brooks the light keeper is about 45 years old and has been in his present position for over twenty years. He has received a gold medal from the New York Society for the Preservation of Life as a reward for former bravery and a few years ago the citizens of New Haven presented him a silver set to testify their appreciation of his services The two daughters, who have shown themselves as brave as their father were both born on the little island and are well educated and cultivated They are provided with many of the luxuries of the city and they entertained the sailors in their little stone tower with music on the piano and guitar They say they are perfectly happy in their strange sea washed home and prefer its quiet monotonous enjoyment to the pleasures of the social world The Captain s wife with a nephew in his teens complete the household Captain Brooks is somewhat a lover of science and he has in his museum probably one of the finest collections of stuffed birds in the country He was a sea captain until he returned to Faulkner s Island

If you want a good fitting suit in the latest style go to Johnson & Quinn

An Important Fact.

The voluntary testimony of thousands establishes beyond all doubt a fact of vital importance to the sick and debilitated viz. that Hostetter s Stomach Bitters is an absolute specific for remittent and intermittent fever dyspepsia constipation bilious ness mental depression sleeplessness chronic diarrhea and all diseases of the stomach liver and bowels The unmedicated stimulants usually prescribed in these cases only aggravate the symptoms. Instead of removing them The Bitters, on the contrary act as a corrective and invigorant without producing the unpleasant and dangerous consequences of the ... practice The action is mild and soothing to the irritated stomach and bowels promoting digestion and preventing flatulence ... and all intestinal irregularities A wineglassful before meals greatly assists digestion The convalescent may use them with great benefit as a means of restoring strength and cheerfulness

CROUP DISARMED OF ITS TERRORS

The croupy cough—so alarming to the car and so dangerous to life—to which children are subject may be immediately relieved by administering a dose of HALL S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR When given to a child who seems to be choking under the effects of a spasmodic and husky cough, the effect is electrical as many a mother will testify In fact there is no affection of the throat or the lungs short of the actual disorganization of the tissues and vital parts which it will not cure

PIKE S TOOTHACHE DROPS—Cure in one minute

Do not neglect a cold Thousands have been carried to early and unnecessary graves by not resorting to some sure and reliable means of cure. WISTAR S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is offered as a cure of nearly half a century s standing and is in all respects the best for coughs colds bronchitis, whooping cough etc

MASSACHUSETTS SILVER

THE SENSATION INCREASING —200 OUNCES [illegible] SILVER TO THE TON—[illegible] OF THE NEWBURY MINE

BOSTON March 4—The excitement on the Newbury silver mines increases instead of diminishing and there are new arrivals of men and machinery every day Each day its operations extend and shafts sink deeper the same rich quality of the metal is brought up and new lode is opened and the same rich lifts are deposits are found the excitement gains in strength The Daily Advertiser says that the main shaft the first discovered (the Chipman), has already reached a depth of nearly 50 feet, one half of its intended depth As the miners go down, the metal grows richer, with occasionally a small

NUGGET OF PURE SILVER

As soon as the shaft has reached a depth of 150 feet—about the middle of April—a large body of men will be put to work to drift on the vein and make cross cuts The ore at present is better than any of a previous yield, containing about 200 ounces of silver to the ton, and bears a great resemblance in appearance and color to the product of the famous Legal Tender mine in Silver City, Grant county, New Mexico An average specimen assayed $122 to the ton A sale was consummated on Tuesday between the owners of the mine, Messrs Kelly, Chipman & Shaw, and a New York party, by which five eighths of the Adams lot, and five-sixteenths of the Boynton lot are transferred to the New York people for $625,000 This purchase is at a valuation

OF $1,000,000 FOR THE MINE

Messrs Chipman & Shaw would not dispose of their interests even at this very large sum if they did not own 1,000 feet adjoining, running along the vein

About three quarters of a mile nearer the city than the Chipman lode is situated what is known as

THE KEMPTON LODE,

In a section of pastures that run across the same gneiss lode of metaliferous rock that the Chipman shaft is situated in Here the Lawrence Company are busy at work under the direction of Mr Kempton, a mining engineer, who finds a line of silver-bearing rock sixty feet broad In his prospecting, Mr Kempton employs the diamond drill The vein was struck at a depth of fifty-six feet

The fourth interest to get fairly at work in this section, is known as the Bartlett and the lode is situated a short distance from the Kempton, on the side of the Highfield, nearest Newburyport The mine is owned by Bartlett & Co in which company are J H Bartlett, a prominent safe manufacturer of this city, J W Bartlett and two others The property, one divided undivided half of twenty five acres, was bonded by Mr Robert Smith for $50,000 Two shafts have been started, both of which are down about 10 feet, and promise well The ore taken out is a compound of sulphurets of lead, copper and silver, carrying gold.

THE PRINCIPAL CHARACTERISTICS

Of the ore-cropping and formation matter are similar to those of the famous Ralston's mines, of Bank of California notoriety, situated in Grant county, New Mexico The Bartlett Company will push matters at once, and will, as soon as possible, form a stock company to facilitate matters further These four are all that are now at work

The Kent farm, which was bonded by Messrs Kelly, Shaw & Chipman, and lies southwest of the Chipman lode, has been sold to Providence parties for $30,000 It will be prospected, and work begun as soon as the snow is gone The new owners are Mr Blanning and Messrs Pierce & Salsbury, bankers of that city The deed was given on Tuesday last and $16,000 paid over, a mortgage of $14,000 being taken for the balance on the land of R A Smith

There soon will be seen another shaft just back of the Bartlett farm Messrs E T and A Couch, of Providence and Spring field, and J W Bartlett, of this city, have bonded twenty acres for $40,000 Eight acres adjoining the Boynton lode have been sold to Messrs George F Bailey and George L. Hodgson, of Portland, for $15,000 Land in this vicinity has also been bonded to the amount of hundreds of thousands more.

"LITTLE BO-PEEP" AND THE DYING CHILD

I remember when I was nursing in a hospital once, there was a poor little boy about six years old dying of rheumatic fever I was night nurse in the ward and regularly, when the attack of pain came on, he used to scream out to me

"Nursey, sing It hurts me Sing the hurt away"

So then I'd prop him up upon my arm, an' sing one song after another, from 'Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star,' to "Black-Eyed Susan, till the paroxysm of pain was over, an' he'd quiet down again I always knew when that was by his joining his voice in, too—such a weak pipe of a voice, poor lamb! but I was better glad to hear it than any music, for it telled me the pain was gone for a while, an' I could lie him down to sleep again

Poor wee mite! I was singing Little Bo Peep' the night he died I had him in my arms, an' I'd been singing all day I knew he couldn't last out another, an' though he tried to join in as usual, his voice went into a gasp an' broke I'd been sometimes used to call the children in the ward my little sheep, an' when I came to the end of the verse—

> Little Bo-Peep she lost her sheep
> An doesn't know where to find em
> Let em alone an they'll come home
> An bring their tails behind em—

He looked up in my face with a bit of a smile on his poor little drawn white mouth, and said

"Nursey 'll know where to find her lickle sheep when he goes home Will I be long going home now, nursey?"

Long! Ah, poor little lamb ten minutes later an' he'd gone home—Cassell's Magazine

GLUTTONY—While the war against intemperance in drinking is being waged why does not some one rise up to combat intemperance in eating? How does it happen that amid the everlasting cry against drunkenness we never hear a word against its sister evil—gluttony? I think says a well known physician I can assert with truth that, in a long practice, three have died among my patients from overeating, where one has died from drink Whence come apoplexy paralysis, dyspepsia and hosts of other diseases but from too much rich food taken under most imprudent circumstances? And yet we hear of no society formed to prevent this growing evil A man eats until he drops down with apoplexy by the road-side when up comes the Coroner with a jury of twelve good men and true who pronounce a verdict, Died from intemperance." So he did, but what kind of intemperance was it? I have heard more than one minister in the pulpit expatiate with great vehemence against the sin of drunkenness, whose very appearance was proof positive that he was pre eminently guilty of gluttony

That matters in business circles have been very dull a greater portion of the time for the past months past cannot be denied but throughout the depression the sources of the country real wealth have remained unimpaired and while those branches of business that were purely speculative yet present a forlorn aspect and overblown credit remains collapsed still there is an ample supply of capital which can be had for investment in sound enterprises The increased deposits in savings and other banks throughout the country are a favorable indication, showing that they are in the channels of trade and available for commercial purposes Indeed everything points to the fact that recuperation is steadily going on and the country is gradually recovering from the general condition of dullness prevalent during a part of the past year

In the Eastern cities the spring trade opens with fair prospect and while stocks in the hands of commission men are said to be nearly used up manufacturers of various lines of goods in anticipation of increased demands have increased their production accordingly so that all branches of business appear to be enjoying a renewed activity

On this coast there is at most nothing to produce fears of less animation in trade circles than was enjoyed last year Both Oregon and California have yet a very considerable grain surplus to work upon and the gold, silver and coal mines are yielding large ly The season has not been unfavorable for planting and though the severe winter caused some loss there is a fair promise in our State at least, for the growing crop to produce an abundant harvest. Of course it is too early yet to predict with any certainty what the yield will be but as the breadth of acreage planted is conceded to be larger than usual with an ordinarily favorable season the production of the year must add materially to the wealth of the country

Wheat Markets Abroad

From official publications by the New York Produce Exchange we collate the following statistical information concerning the breadstuffs markets in various parts of the world

On the 2 [illegible] ult the entire visible supply of wheat was 12 180 111 bu hels against 12 901 784 bushels the week before and 11 685 [illegible] bu hels at the corresponding date last year

During the five weeks from December 29th to February 2d 157 there were [illegible] wheat laden vessels passed the Dardanelles destined for the ports of the United Kingdom besides which there was a considerable number of vessels bound for Malta and Gibraltar for orders some of which will have been ordered to the United Kingdom

The stock of wheat in granary in Marseilles on the 12th of February 18[illegible] was 41 780 metrical quintals of 220½ pounds avoirdupois each, as 33 157 metrical quintals February 13 1874

There were on the 18th of February 1875 including flour or its equivalent in wheat, in transit for the United Kingdom exclusive of steamer shipments from American Atlantic ports, and sail and steamer shipments from Baltic ports 1 548 120 quarters of wheat comprising 53 620 quarters from Azov Sea ports, 194,220 quarters from Black Sea ports 17 600 from the Danube 1 16 140 quarters from San Francisco and Portland (Oregon) 49 800 quarters from Chili 1 660 quarters from the Mediterranean ports and 26,800 quarters from other ports

The wheat crop in the United Kingdom in 1874 is reported to be a very large one with a large yield on stiff soils everywhere except on light sandy and gravel soils The coming crop was sown under the most favorable circumstances, and appears promising The farmers have threshed much less than usual but there has been less old wheat of the crop of 1873 and before marketed since Sept 1st than in any year for a long period which indicates that there was an unusual exhaustion of the stock of wheat in the country at the beginning of the harvest Sept. 1 18 4

At Hamburg Germany on the 9th of February 1875 wheat was dull prices too high for export Wheat everywhere plenty sellers but no buyers, prices tending downward Maize neglected New Hungarian too soft—does not keep after being ground stock on spot small Rye was without animation and declining Hamburg millers are buying wheat freely in Hull England Advices for Feb 8th report that the crops so far promise well Supplies continued moderate and stocks small demand small

At Groningen Holland on the 9th of February supplies of all descriptions of grain had been moderate Wheat met a dull dragging sale at a reduction of 3d to 6d per quarter in the week, while clover seed is in brisk demand and choice 2@3d per cwt dearer Weather colder but navigation—except on some small canals inland—had not been interrupted

SAN FRANCISCO March 25 —Sailed—British ship Dhawar, Queenstown bark Edward May Hoila Philippine Islands brig Percy Edward Tahiti ship Comet, Manila brig J B Ford Honolulu ship John Jay Port Townsend

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—There seems to be a firm feeling in the market in this cereal and the offers made at $1 [illegible] per cental are freely taken while that held at $1 40 is touched more cautiously We learn of recent sales of two or three cargoes from this port between 80 and 90 days out The cargo of the iron ship Gloria at 45s 6d and that of the wooden bark Atsler[illegible] at 40s per quarter of 500 lbs Both cargoes were sold in Liverpool to arrive at buyers risk It is rumored to day that another cargo (of what vessel is not stated) had been placed at 4[illegible]

FLOUR—There is no change in quotations Shipments to San Francisco and to ports to the north are still large We quote at $4 [illegible]@1 0 per barrel for jobbing lots of standard extras $1 for good out side and country brands and $3 50@[illegible] for super fine

OATS—The surplus yet in the State we think is held more largely in the farmers hands than many persons think some asserting that because the warehouses along the line of transportation are empty that there are but few lots in the country for sale While we do not estimate the remaining surplus as being up to the average taking one year with another we yet think a brisk demand at advanced prices would bring out quite a large amount Quotations at present are [illegible]@48c per bushel Receipts are very light

BARLEY—The demand is fair for local consumption but receipts very light Quotations nominally at $1 [illegible] a hundred lbs for good feed and $1 35@1 40 for choice brewing

MILL FEED—Owing to the fact that a number of country mills have suspended work the article has become scarce in the [illegible] is entirely out of the market and nominally [illegible] at an advance of $1 per ton other descriptions firm but unchanged

HAY—Is still in moderate request at $10@11 per ton for timothy with a decline in the receipts Wild hay in [illegible] low sale at $7[illegible]

POTATOES—There is a fair demand for good lots for shipment at [illegible] per bushel [illegible] quotations being 70@7[illegible]

ONIONS—The demand is rather dull [illegible] $1@1 [illegible] are given as buyers figures

APPLES RIPE—Receipts though deer [illegible] quantity are larger than was anticipated at the time of the freeze Quotations are now [illegible] per box best qualities assorted and neatly packed for shipment

APPLES DRIED—The trade is inactive but prices are nominally steady at 6c [illegible] in sacks and [illegible] in kegs

BACON—Shipments are being made of the surplus in this market to San Francisco, where prices are also down to an unprofitable figure Our quotations for sides are 11@1[illegible] hams 13@14c, shoulders 8@9c Receipts are not very large so far this week

LARD—There is a fair demand for good quality in tins and kegs, quotable at 14c [illegible] in the former and 13c in kegs

BUTTER—The market is bare of choice lots and short on all saleable qualities We quote at 40c per lb for best roll and 30@35c for common

EGGS—The market is fluctuating at 17@18c per dozen to day with chances for a change up or down at any day

CHICKENS—Good lots quotable at $1 [illegible] choice, $4 [illegible] per dozen common $3 [illegible]@4 [illegible]

DRESSED HOGS—The packing season having closed the only demand is from the home trade and is not brisk at [illegible]

BEEF CATTLE—There have been but few arrivals of choice lots during the past week and for such prices have advanced [illegible] cts per lb net on foot ordinary quotable at [illegible]

MUTTON SHEEP—There are very few lots offering and choice are [illegible]

HIDES AND [illegible]—[illegible] for shipping purposes [illegible] are light We [illegible] green [illegible] salted [illegible] green [illegible] skins [illegible]

WOOL—[illegible] quotable at [illegible] for common [illegible] lots 16 18c

Premium Carriage Factory

Cor. Jefferson and Front Streets,

PORTLAND OREGON

Is now making First-Class EXPRESS WAGONS, BUGGIES and CARRIAGES of all kinds

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

At the Oregon State Fair recently held at Salem Mr E. Smith was awarded the First Premiums on an Open and also on a Top Buggy The latter was built from a design published in the June number of The Carriage Monthly styled Monitor Piano Box Buggy and elicited much admiration—The Daily Advertiser

Mr E SMITH of Portland [illegible] for exhibition at the State Fair two Buggies both Open and Top, and certainly exhibits good workmanship as can be found on the Coast while several very important improvements have been added especially in fixing the same so as not to wind on the pivot in putting the bolts through the same The commendable enterprise that Mr Smith has displayed we understand is being amply rewarded in our city He will be awarded the first Premium—Oregon [illegible]

Mr E. SMITH Carriage Maker of Portland exhibited one Open and one Covered Buggy upon the Fair Grounds which deserve special mention These Carriages are especially light and durable and those in need of such a purchase—and who isn t—should call upon him before purchasing elsewhere of course Mr. Smith bore off the blue ribbons—New Northwest

Mr E SMITH Carriage Maker corner of Front and Jefferson streets took two Premiums at the State Fair for First Class Buggies This speaks well for his work and is a credit to Portland—Pacific Christian Advocate

HOME MANUFACTURE—Mr E Smith Carriage Maker of this city has some splendid vehicles on exhibition at the Fair—Te pe ance Star

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice Dyspepsia Indigestion, Dysentery Foul Stomach and Breath Erysipelas Headache, Piles Rheumatism Eruptions and Skin Diseases Biliousness, Liver Complaint Dropsy Tetter Tumors and Salt Rheum Worms Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills They are safe and pleasant to take but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood, they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians most eminent clergymen and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills They are the safest and best physic for children because mild as well as effectual Being sugar coated they are easy to take and being purely vegetable they are entirely harmless.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons,

Has been widely used during the last twenty five years in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes or chills once broken by it do not return until the disease is contracted again This has made it an accepted remedy and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West and the Chills and Fever of the South

Ayers Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack It thoroughly expels the disease so that no Liver Complaints Rheumatism Neuralgia Dysentery or Debility follow the cure Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison it removes the cause of them and they disappear Not only is it an effectual cure but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy

An Important Railway Meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26 —The meeting of [illegible] road men here last night was to arrange difficul[illegible] that have existed for some years between the U[illegible] and Kansas Pacific railroad companies about [illegible] rado business and to take measures to [illegible] building of parallel roads in Colorado by the U[illegible] Pacific. Robert E. Carr president of the Ka[illegible] Pacific is here and Jay Gould, Dillon, Dodge, [illegible] Smith, of the Union Pacific.

Good Friday in New York

NEW YORK March 26—The lower part of [illegible] York is comparatively dull to-day The numb[illegible] people in the streets this morning was perhaps [illegible] less than on ordinary week days, but very little [illegible] ness was done

Large congregations assembled at the Ro[illegible] Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches, [illegible] services of the ritual impressive character [illegible] held. Near all the courts are closed. Also [illegible] stock and gold exchanges, and among brokers [illegible] day is as closely observed as a legal holi[illegible] Banks are obliged to keep open but they are do[illegible] little business. There are some counter order[illegible] Government bonds, and something has been d[illegible] in foreign exchange all on the basis of yesterd[illegible] prices and rates. Borrowers of money yester[illegible] made arrangements for loans until Saturday

Good Friday not Observed in Chicago

CHICAGO March 26.—Good Friday is not obser[illegible] here as a holiday

Good Friday in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, March 26 —Business to-day is gener[illegible] suspended and the observance of Good Frid[illegible] more general than usual [illegible]

Weather in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 26.—The weather is, for the [illegible] time in months clear and beautiful and quite w[illegible] The snow has all disappeared, and ice in the [illegible] melted without any damage occurring to shipp[illegible] or to buildings along the banks as was at one tim[illegible] feared.

Californians Coming Home.

NEW YORK, March 26 —Senator Sargent Secre[illegible] of the Senate Gorham and ex-Senator Stewart [illegible] leave Washington, together for California, [illegible] Monday, Senator Jones remains here a week [illegible] two longer.

On a Short Visit.

The President and family go to New York [illegible] short visit.

Boston Talks of Judge Lynch.

BOSTON March 26—George Pemberton, the [illegible] leged murderer of Mrs. Bingham, in East Bos[illegible] was arraigned in the municipal court to-day, [illegible] fully committed for murder. An immense cr[illegible] of excited citizens were in attendance and th[illegible] was strong inclination to resort to lynch law. [illegible] prisoner was escorted to and from the court [illegible] by a guard of 60 policemen.

Treasury Disbursements.

NEW YORK, March 26 —Treasury disburseme[illegible] of gold to day was $111 000

New York Canal Investigation.

ALBANY March 26 —The resolution adopted [illegible] the Senate for the investigation of canal aff[illegible] provides for the appointment of four commissi[illegible] ers by the governor with the advice and consen[illegible] the senate and that the inquiry shall cover [illegible] last seven years. Horatio Seymour and Samue[illegible] Ruggles are suggested as two commissioners [illegible]

Heavy Storm Threatened.

PORT JERVIS, N J., March 26.—There are ind[illegible] tions to night of a heavy storm which will pro[illegible] immense damage down the river

The Weather again Troublesome.

WILKESBARRE Pa , March 26 —Rain all the af[illegible] noon with the appearance of rain all night. [illegible] ports from points up the river state it is rain[illegible] hard. The snow is disappearing so rapidly [illegible] low places in the fields are completely filled [illegible] water, seeking passage to streams but the river [illegible] not risen perceptibly Twenty four hours of s[illegible] weather will fill the tributaries of the rivers ful[illegible] the banks and danger will be at hand.

The Last Robber Captured.

MEMPHIS March 26—The last of the four men [illegible] gaged in robbing the Southern Express Comp[illegible] in February last is now in jail here and with [illegible] companions will soon have a trial and it is ge[illegible] ally believed Morris and Johnston will pay [illegible] penalty of their crime on the scaffold.

A Rush for Liberty.

JEFFERSON [illegible] Ind., March 26 —Eighty c[illegible] victs at work in the foundry in the penitenti[illegible] made a bold and desperate attempt to escape to-d[illegible] by a sudden rush for the guards, overpowe[illegible] blind folded and gagged them, and had succee[illegible] in partially cutting a hole through the outer w[illegible] when other guards discovered them and for[illegible] them back to their cells at the point of their ri[illegible]

South Carolina Politics.

CHARLESTON, March 25.—The Legislature [illegible] journed sine die to-day Gov Chamberlain ve[illegible] the bill to declare the true intent and meaning [illegible] the funding act of 1873 The main ground of [illegible] veto is that the bill is not in harmony with the [illegible] tlement of the public debt under the funding [illegible] which the governor in accordance with [illegible] pledges, feels bound to sustain. The veto was [illegible] tained after a sharp debate, all the Conservat[illegible] voting against the bill

THE TILTON-BEECHER CASE.

The Beecher Side Summing Up.

NEW YORK March 26 —Tilton s former stateme[illegible] that all his efforts had been addressed to the [illegible] pression of the Beecher scandal and that he had [illegible] relation with the Woodhull women except for [illegible] purpose of keeping them from publishing it [illegible] utterly shattered by yesterday's testimony by [illegible] unusually intelligent colored servants They sw[illegible] positively to long continued affectionate [illegible] between Tilton and Woodhull—Tilton frequ[illegible] visiting both her residence and office [illegible] her room and remaining at her house all nig[illegible] One testified positively he heard Tilton urge W[illegible] hull to publish the Beecher article, while Colo[illegible] Blood remonstrated earnestly that it would [illegible] them to jail [illegible] Break [illegible] rigorous cross-examination failed [illegible] force of this testimony. Considera[illegible] damage was done to Tilton s case in the pu[illegible] estimation

The Herald, which has been disposed to [illegible] Beecher's case, returns to Bessie Turner thus:

While her story has been altered in many [illegible] spect from that she related before the church c[illegible] mittee, it was still told with a tenacity and ear[illegible] ness which were felt by the majority of the a[illegible] ence Corresponding the plaintiff felt ou[illegible] sympathy Beginning her testimony without m[illegible] consideration for her evidence, but regardi[illegible] doubtful witness this girl, by force of talent, [illegible] in the credulity of the public resisted the atta[illegible] of the lawyers to break her down, and has re[illegible] with as much applause as may serve to sell [illegible] story of her life if she chooses to publish it.

NEW YORK, March 26 —There has never been [illegible]
